APPOINTMENT OF CUSTODIAN FOR MINOR SHAREHOLDERS INFORMATION SHEET

Under Alaska law, children under 18 years of age who receive stock in a Native Corporation must have their stock issued to a custodian. The person giving the stock may designate the custodian if they desire. Otherwise, the custodian will be determined according to the following priority established by Alaska law:

1. The legal guardian of the child, if any;
2. A parent of the child, as selected by the parents;
3. An adult member of the child's family, which includes parents, grandparents, brothers, sisters, uncles and aunts, whether of the whole or half blood or through adoption and may also include members of the family with who the child has customarily lived.

AKI will issue the stock in the name of the custodian, as custodian for the child. If the child is a Native or a Descendant of a Native, then the stock will carry voting rights, and the custodian will be entitled to vote the stock. If the child is non-Native, the stock will not have voting rights.

The custodian receives dividends and other distributions on behalf of the child. The duties of the custodian are set out in the statute. In general, they allow the custodian to spend as much of the dividends and distributions, if any, as the custodian considers necessary for the support, maintenance, education and benefit of the child. The remainder is to be held separately on behalf of the child. All money, if it is to be invested, must be placed in a separate account with a broker or an insured financial institution in the name of the custodian followed by the words "as custodian for" (child's name") under the Alaska Uniform Transfer to Minors Act." The custodian must keep a record of all transactions regarding custodial property. If the custodian is a person other than a parent or legal representative of the child, the records must be made available at reasonable intervals to the parents or legal representative, or, if the minor is over 14 years of age, to the minor.

The custodian is entitled to reimbursement from the custodial property for expenses, but is not entitled to any compensation unless specifically ordered by the court.

The custodianship will terminate at age 18. At termination, the dividends, distributions and other property must be turned over to the child.

For each child for whom a custodian is to be appointed, Consent to Appointment of Custodian for ANCSA Stock must be signed by the custodian and filed with the Corporation.

If you have any questions on Custodians, please contact AKI at (907) 258-0604.
