Spring 2026 Newsletter

A MESSAGE FROM THE CHAIR

Dear Shareholders,

As we welcome spring, I want to take a moment to reflect on where we are as a corporation and where we are headed together.

The Board of Directors remains focused on one core responsibility: protecting the long-term interests of our shareholders while ensuring AKI operates with integrity, accountability, and purpose. Over the past year, we have continued to strengthen governance, improve oversight, and make thoughtful decisions that support financial stability, and sustainable growth.

We are proud of the progress AKI has made. Through strong leadership, disciplined planning, and clear priorities, the corporation is on solid footing.

Equally important is our commitment to our people. AKI exists to serve the shareholders today and for generations to come. Programs that support education, cultural connection, and economic opportunity remain central to our mission.

We are encouraged by the direction AKI is heading and remain committed to transparent communication and responsible leadership.

We look forward to connecting with you throughout the year and continuing this work together.

Quyana,

Letter from the President and CEO

Dear Shareholders,

As spring arrives, it brings a time of renewal and momentum, and that same sense of forward movement is reflected in the work happening across Akhiok-Kaguyak, Inc.

Over the past year, AKI has continued to strengthen its foundation while positioning the corporation for sustainable, long-term success. We remain focused on disciplined financial management, responsible growth, and protecting the assets entrusted to us, including our lands, our culture, and our people.

Our priorities are clear. We are building a strong, accountable organization that operates with transparency and purpose. This includes maintaining sound governance practices and ensuring our subsidiaries and operations are aligned with AKI's mission and values.

Equally important is our commitment to shareholder development. Programs that support education, career growth, cultural connection, and community well-being are not just benefits; they are investments in the future of our shareholders. We are proud to continue expanding opportunities that empower both current shareholders and the leaders of tomorrow.

None of this progress happens without trust, collaboration, and hard work. As we move through 2026, we remain committed to clear communication, thoughtful decision-making, and steady progress. I look forward to the year ahead and to continuing this journey together.

With respect,

Sabrina Ben,

Shareholder Spotlight

Sharissa Graciani's family originates from the village of Akhiok on Kodiak Island. Her great-grandmother, Makrena Peterson, moved to Anchorage to establish roots for her growing family. Sharissa was raised in Anchorage surrounded by her mother's extended family, which helped instill a strong sense of connection and pride in her Aleut heritage.

Both of her parents are retired Army veterans, whose dedication and work ethic have inspired her to pursue a life centered on learning and service. She also credits her 12-year-old sister as a source of motivation, encouraging her to continue growing and setting a positive example.

Sharissa is currently pursuing a degree in psychology, driven by her passion for helping others. Her interest in the field developed through witnessing how life experiences and mental health can influence a person's actions and well-being. She hopes to use her education to help others develop healthy ways to cope with challenges and to support people on their healing journeys.

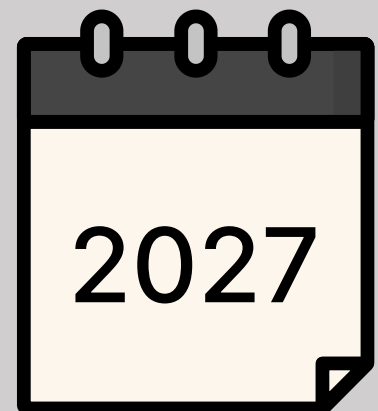

After completing her bachelor's degree, Sharissa plans to begin working in social work, focusing on either child welfare or the medical field. Her long-term goal is to earn a doctorate in health psychology or child psychology and become a psychologist. She also hopes to conduct research that supports Native communities and helps ensure they are represented in health services and interventions.

Sharissa encourages fellow shareholders to apply for AKI scholarships, noting how much they have helped her continue her education. She shares that the support has motivated her to stay focused on her academic goals and is deeply grateful for the opportunity to pursue her university education.

AKI is now accepting photo submissions from shareholders for our 2027 calendar. We encourage you to share photos of Alaska landscapes, wildlife, cultural traditions, family activities, or life in your community.

Photos can be submitted by emailing info@aki-kodiak.com. Please include your name and a brief description of the photo.

Welcome

We proudly welcomed seven new shareholders this quarter. Each new shareholder represents the continuation of our community, heritage, and future. We celebrate the families who are passing ownership to the next generation and strengthening our corporation for years to come.

Wishing our Shareholders and their families a peaceful and joyful Pascha.

This special time is one of reflection, renewal, and hope. For many in our communities, Russian Orthodox Easter carries deep cultural and spiritual meaning, honoring traditions that have been passed down through generations. We recognize and celebrate the importance of these traditions and the strength they bring to our shared heritage.

Investing in our Shareholders' Future Scholarship and Grant Opportunities

AKI is proud to invest in the future of our shareholders through our scholarship and career development grant programs. These programs help support education, training, and professional growth by reducing financial barriers for those pursuing higher education, vocational programs, certifications, and career advancement.

Our goal is to empower shareholders with opportunities that strengthen families, careers, and our community as a whole. We encourage all eligible shareholders to apply and take advantage of these valuable resources.

For application details or questions about eligibility, please contact the Shareholder Relations Department.
